Pahokee to join in filing lawsuit

By Bill Phillips
Staff reporter

The Pahokee City Commission decided unanimously to join a lawsuit filed by other cities in Palm Beach County, challenging a proposal to allow the county commission to sit as a county-wide growth management board at last week's meeting.

County Commissioner Ken Foster has gone public with his disapproval of the move and sent his Glades Assistant, Sue Bailey to speak to the commissioners.

This would take away the right of the cities to manage their own land and its' usage and give the responsibility to the county commission.

Commissioners feel the coast wants to limit growth while the Glades area, especially Pahokee needs growth to stimulate their economy.

The lawsuit is opposing a March 10th ballot question that would give the county commission control of all growth management decisions.

In other business the commissioners:

•Rejected a private sanitation firm's offer to pick up garbage. Randy Strickland of South Florida Sanitation Inc. of Belle Glade was told by commissioners they would be willing to talk to him in another six months but that many residents were unhappy with his service.

•Directed City Manager Ken Schenck to write a new zoning amendment to allow the We Care Center for the homeless in Belle Glade to move to Pahokee.

Reverend Jimmy Felder director of the center said he was negotiating on the Johnson Building on South Lake Avenue between Third and Fourth Streets.

Fire recently destroyed the We Care Center in Belle Glade.

Mills heads up his first PHA meeting

By Bill Phillips
Staff reporter

Randy Mills, the new executive director of the Pahokee Housing Authority, was clearly in control of the monthly board meeting held last Thursday night, according to tenants.

Mr. Mills said several important reports were due in to the HUD office by March 2, and he, along with his staff, would have them ready on time. "The staff at the authority is willing to put in all the hours necessary to get the job done," he said.

Chairperson Esther Boyd called the meeting to order with one of the longest agendas the board has had in over a year.

President Nate Edwards of the NAACP was supposed to address the board but did not show up for the meeting.

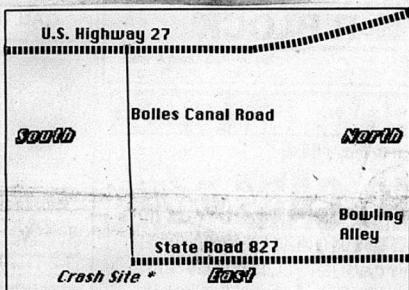

•The Dallas Tyszkowski hearing decision was on the agenda but Mr. Tyszkowski was not at the meeting. The SUN contacted him and he said he was unaware that he had been placed on this month's agenda as of five o'clock, February 13th.

•Mr. Mills said he would work details out with City Manager Ken Schenck and have the Public Utilities Agreement ready with the City of Pahokee by the week-end.

•Mr. Mills said he had instituted a maintenance action plan to speed up repairs on housing units in the authority. The workmen are going by work order and hopefully will be able to effect repairs within 72 hours of each tenant complaint.

•In Friend Village many of the upstairs units are having Fatal accident....A private contractor for Talleman Sugar Corporation apparently toppled his truck loaded with cane on his way to the mill and was killed Tuesday. The accident occurred on State Road 827, the road behind the bowling alley, at about 8:50 a.m. The truck was headed northeast.

Everglades Memorial wins round one

Judge dismisses lawsuit

By Bill Phillips
Staff reporter

The Palm Beach County Health Care Taxing District added another major setback to its already growing list of troubles on February 6th, when Everglades Memorial Hospital won the first major round in the litigation between the hospital and the Taxing District.

The Health Care Taxing District's lawsuit to close Everglades Memorial Hospital in Pahokee was dismissed without prejudice by Judge Lucy Brown on February 6th.

Everglades Memorial has filed a counter suit against the Palm Beach County Health Care Taxing District questioning the legality of the Taxing District closing the hospital.

The suit, which is about 60 pages long, cites breaking of leases with the hospital which would run another 40 years approximately; the legality of hiring a consultant for $250,000 without officials looking at other proposals and the actual legality of the Taxing District Board's existence.

At this week's Pahokee City Commission meeting, commissioners made it clear the city will stand by their hospital even if it has to join the hospital in their lawsuit.

"The loss of the Everglades Memorial would be a devastating blow to Pahokee. It would mean that 400 plus people would lose their jobs," said Mayor Ramon Horta. "We need to send a clear message to the Taxing District that we are behind our hospital 100%."

The P.B.C. Taxing District wants to merge Everglades Memorial with Glades General Hospital in Belle Glade arguing that it would save taxpayers an estimated $10 million. The hospital in Pahokee would be used for an outpatient facility and the hospital in Belle Glade would be used as an in-patient facility.

No one actually seems to know for sure just how much money could be saved. According to media, the figures of $13 million, $10 million, and as of late, $7 million have been used in reporting.

The question Glades residents are asking is "Does anyone know for sure that any money at all will be saved or will it in fact cost the taxpayers more to combine the hospitals?"

In October Glades General Hospital asked the Health Care District for $1.3 million to begin an obstetrics department. The board denied the request saying it was premature since the Pahokee Hospital was still open and had an obstetrics department.

Originally, the plan was to close both hospitals and build a new facility between the two cities, but both hospitals fought that move. Neither Belle Glade or Pahokee want their hospital closed.

Glades people feared that Glades General Hospital would be used as a hospital for A.I.D.S. patients only, on a national level, and rumors ran rampant through the Glades.

It was bad enough that Belle Glade had been called the "A.I.D.S. capital of the World," by national media.

One of the newest proposals is to let Everglades Memorial take on a new role as a mental health center and general care facility, or a provider of several different health care related services.

According to Everglades Memorial officials, people come from as far away as Okeechobee to have their babies at their facility by choice.

One thing is certain, neither Belle Glade or Pahokee is going to give up on this issue and as slowly as the court system moves it may be quite a while before any decision is reached.

When questioned, a local resident of the Glades said Belle Glade and Pahokee were like two sisters fighting over who was going to wear a particular dress to the senior prom. "The cities really do love each other like sisters, but they are willing to fight like sisters when they have to."

Watch out on these foggy mornings!

Minor injuries....Three vehicles were involved in an accident last Friday morning in the fog in front of West Technical Education Center. Florida Highway Patrol officials gave only the last names of the parties involved. They did not have a complete accident report as of press time Wednesday.

AQUATIC PLANT MANAGEMENT ON LAKE OKEECHOBEE TO BE ADDRESSED PUBLIC INFORMATION MEETING SET

JACKSONVILLE, Fla.—The U.S. Army Corps of Engineers, Jacksonville District, will hold two public information meetings March 17-18 to address plans for management activities on Lake Okeechobee in the coming year. The Corps directs the federally-funded aquatic plant management program on the lake.

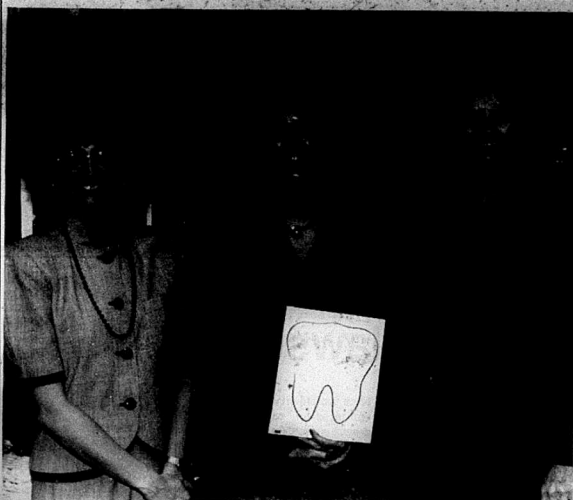

The March 17th meeting will be held in Belle Glade at the Belle Glade City Hall. On March 18th, the meeting will be held in Okeechobee at the Okeechobee Civic Center. Both meetings are scheduled from 7-9 p.m.

Representatives from the Florida Department of Natural Resources, the University of Florida's Center for Aquatic Plants, Florida Game and Fresh Water Fish Commission, Florida Department of Environmental Regulation, and the United States Department of Agriculture will be present. Representatives from the South Florida Water Management District, which conducts treatment operations under an agreement with the Corps will also attend the meetings.

The Corps will give a presentation on the current status of the aquatic plants and the lake areas scheduled for upcoming treatment. In addition, a SFWMDC herbicide applicator will give a presentation on the duties and responsibilities of a herbicide applicator on Lake Okeechobee.

Problem aquatic plant species infesting the lake are hydrilla, water lettuce and water hyacinth. Severe infestations of these exotic aquatic plants can interfere with boating, fishing, navigation, flood control and water quality management, but due to recent management efforts, floating aquatic plants are at very low population levels.

The public is cordially invited to attend. Additional information may be obtained by contacting Ron Miedema, U.S. Army Corps of Engineers, Jacksonville District, Natural Resources Management Office, 525 Ridgewood Road, Clewiston, Florida 33440-6399, or call (813) 983-3335.

Rosenwald Elementary also received recognition for 99% participation in the program. IMPORTANCE OF PROPER BITE

People ask me about bite adjustment. This is a procedure with many benefits and deserves consideration.

First it is important to understand that to save teeth the supporting structure (that is the gum and bone) must be healthy. When these supporting structures are weakened, periodontal disease results. The American Dental Association has stated that after age 35 more teeth are lost because of periodontal disease than any other cause.

When teeth do not come together properly on closing the jaws, the health of gums and bone is threatened. Thus, the main purposes of bite relation adjustment are: 1) To reduce strain on teeth. 2) Improve eating and chewing efficiency. 3) Retard further supporting bone loss. 4) Prevent food impaction. 5) Retard gum recession. 6) Promote comfort. 7) Preserve teeth and youthful appearance by preventing subtle facial collapse.

We eliminate primary stress contacts, points, which initially collide on closing of jaws. These points bear the full impact. Scientific studies show that this pressure can be tremendous, subjecting the offending teeth to severe shock. Because of our ability to adapt to stress, we are seldom aware of this shock until the supporting bone may be weakened and destroyed.

We modify interfering cuspal relationships to help your teeth to function more smoothly, promote comfort and assure better oral health and appearance.

This office would be pleased to check your bite.

West Tech welcomes new drug dog, "Laser"

Lazer, a glossy black two year old female part Labrador retriever, was introduced to West Tech students by John F. D'Ariano, Area Coordinator, Department of Security, Palm Beach County School Board, in assembly held on February 4, 1992.

West Tech has been without a drug dog since budget cuts caused the retirement of Max, the former drug dog, last year. The new program of self owned drug dogs will provide the Palm Beach County School Board about twice as many dogs for half the cost.

Lieutenant D'Ariano was employed by the City of Ocean Ridge for eighteen years before accepting the position with the Department of Security. He stated that he had selected Lazer after a search of about two hundred dogs. He found Lazer in a dog pound in Miami. At the time she weighed about 40 pounds, now she is a sleek 75 pounds. Dogs are picked for empathic retrieval desire and one in fifty dogs is suitable for the intensive training. Dogs between one and three years of age are selected. The School Board uses only Labrador retrievers because their gentle dispositions make them less likely to bite. He also stated that the average working life of a dog ends at about seven or eight years. Most handlers keep their dogs as pets when they retire. Each dog lives with its handler and accompanies the handler to work. While the going from school to school, the dogs require frequent rest between searches due to the intensity of their search efforts.

Mr. D'Ariano explained in detail the drug dog training process. The Lazer easily and quickly searched and located drug scented towels hidden in the assembly area. She seemed to thoroughly enjoy her job and was very friendly with the student body. Many of the students responded to her quick intelligence and abundant energy by playing with her. After Lazer had locate the hidden drugs, she happily played with a rolled towel, her reward for her successful find. Apparently drug dogs don't exactly lead a 'dogs life', everyone seemed to consider her the star of the show, including her handler.

Lazer and her colleagues will be making frequent visits to all school as a deterrent to drugs on campus.

problems with the tubs trying to slip through the ceiling onto the lower units. This is being looked into immediately for the safety of the tenants.

"The commission accepted a bid on a Luv truck for $150. Even though the Executive Director can make decisions without going to the board on small matters of this sort, Mr. Mills said he wanted the board's approval since it had already been brought to their attention at a previous meeting.

In new business, the board passed resolution No. 317 which is a budget revision on Phase I Modernization and passed resolution No. 318 approving the formula characteristics report for the Comprehensive Grant Program.

"Mr. Mills said the authority lost many of its tenants due to the fact the rent was too high for them to afford. Some tenants were paying as much as $600 per month for a housing authority unit. He expressed a desire to impose a ceiling on rents.

"Ads were placed for architect/engineering services for the Phase II Modernization Program.

"At the request of the tenants association President Patricia Brown, the board voted to lease the community center at Padgett Island to the tenants association so they would have a place to hold tenant meetings and community gatherings without having to drive so far into town as many of the residents do not have cars. Friemond Village will also have the same access to the Padgett Island Community Center.

"Mr. Mills said the current method of pest control was not working and he wanted to do something about it right away. He would like to tent each unit and kill all the pests and then have a regular contract with monthly spraying of each unit after the tenting. He said one lady complained she found a snake in her apartment. "This is the kind of thing we do not want to have to hear about in the future," he said.

"R.D. Sanderfeit, the new Modernization Coordinator for the Authority along with Randy Mills and the assistant Mod Clerk will be traveling to Jacksonville for Comprehensive Grant Program Training given by HUD the last week of this month. Mr. Mills said one of the main problems facing the Housing Authority was the lack of training on the new computer system given to them by HUD. "Right now, we are having to do things manually, but soon, everything will be on the computer the way it was intended which will make running the authority a lot easier at least bookkeeping wise," Randy said.

"We have a long way to go in bringing the Authority back to where it was when I left," said Mills. "I believe it can be done and we can move forward again," he concluded.

It was the hardest thing I've ever had to do, walk away from the family & friends that I've known & cared for so much. I hope you can understand I couldn't come to each & everyone of you & tell you goodbye personally. This was my only way.

LOW BACK PAIN

If back pains are a way of life for you, the reasons can be varied and complex. Some may be pathological, but very often the cause is muscles which are either over or under-exercised which are producing spinal distortion. Vertebrae slip into abnormal positions, resulting in "pinched" and irritated nerves, which cause pain and even loss of function of the affected body part. Poor posture, or even emotional tension, can be the root cause.

What would it take?

What would it take for Belle Glade to go back to electing the Chief of Police and the Mayor?

What would it take, a petition or what to get back to elected officials?

Editor's note: To my knowledge, the City of Belle Glade hasn't had an elected mayor or chief of police for many, many years, if ever.

To get this accomplished would take a charter change and a referendum on the ballot, and an election.

This could be done by a petition drive with enough signatures to get the attention of the city commission. Also, if you think the current system is not representative of the people on a legal basis, you could take it to court.

Folden was first motorcycle police officer

Good morning. You made a mistake when you identified the first motorcycle policeman. My husband was the first motorcycle policeman, Arthur Jerome Folden. In 1958 he was the first motorcycle policeman so please, retract that. I want him to get credit for doing that.

He came from New York Police Department to work here. So, you get that straight. We've been here that long.

Call me back if you want any more information, but please retract that because it is wrong.

Thank you.

Editor's note: Thank you Mrs. Folden for bringing that to our attention. You are correct, of course, and someone else had also pointed that error out to us. We appreciate your readership of The Sun newspaper and since this column is one of the best read portions of our newspaper, I'm sure you have made others aware of the correct information. Thank you for Speaking Out.

Murphy should have gotten police motorcycle

I'm making a comment about what I saw in the paper today about Kysor getting the Motor One Unit for Belle Glade. If you guys would take a look at that you'd see the reason they got that bike was that they got it for free from the Federal Government.

Officer Ed Murphy spent months of research and hard work on his own time to get that bike and they promised it to him. And everybody in Belle Glade expected him to be on the bike.

When the bike showed up, the city got it for free. They turned around and gave it to somebody else and they gyped the person who was supposed to get the bike.

Everybody in Belle Glade expected Ed Murphy to be on that bike because he did all the work for it, spent hundreds of hours on it on his own time, went to the Federal Government, did all the bidding, all the research, which was quite a bit. And when Belle Glade got a bike for free and they're promising him the bike and he'd be the motor unit, they turned around and gave it to someone else.

They gave it to someone who doesn't even have a motorcycle license, who couldn't even go to the motorcycle school because he didn't have a bike before.

That's something to think about and for you guys to take a look at.

Editor's note: We received one other Speak Out on this subject. Both of these callers are mistaken when they say the Motor One Unit was purchased with Federal funds. I attended the Belle Glade Commission meeting when they allocated $14,000 from the general revenue funds for the purchase of the Harley Davidson. Also, according to Public Safety Director Michael Miller, the motorcycle assignment was given on merit, not promises. There were no promises made," he said. He also noted that Officer Kysor does have a motorcycle license.

What's happening to our money?

I have a friend down in Loxahatchee prison and I heard that it seems every time you send money down for them the sheriff's department is misplacing it. Some of us up here wants to know what happened. I talked to two or three friends and they sent money down there and it got misplaced and they had to send more. When money is sent there it's not supposed to be taken away.

It's suppose to stay right there on the premises. But it looks like some of the officers are taking it for their own use for what they need.

Police shouldn't drive police cars after hours

I'd just like to say that after all the ruckus raising on Mr. Underwood getting a gas allowance instead of driving around in a city vehicle, why is (a certain police officer) and his wife driving around town in a Belle Glade police vehicle when he's off duty?

He's out of uniform and his wife is dressed casually and they're driving down Avenue B in the Southwest section of town.

I think this is a little ironic, don't you?

It's a waste of money.

Editor's note: I asked Belle Glade's Public Safety Director to respond to this Speak Out:

"Certain members of the Belle Glade Police Department are on 24-hour call and carry specialized equipment. Take home is designed for maximum response time and so we can have effective public safety services to the citizens of Belle Glade."

Also, Mr. Miller said after checking this out, he found that the officer mentioned was taking a visiting nurse to one of her appointments.

When are they going to fix the road?

I would like to know. I have lived in Belle Glade for several years, ever since before they widened Main Street and I have never seen any repair work done on that road.

It's getting to the condition now where it's absolutely ridiculous. The city, the state, the county, somebody should be responsible for replacing the top on that road.

Editor's note: This caller must have missed a front page story two months ago concerning this issue, but that's o.k.

I have good news for you. According to Dennis McCarthy, Chairman of the Canal Hazard Safety Committee, work on that road is scheduled to begin next month. He said milling and resurfacing will begin at 20-Mile Bend and go to Avenue E in Belle Glade. At the same time work will begin at South Bay at the bridge and go through Belle Glade to the Glades Municipal Building.

Lupus support group forming in the Glades

Lupus Mission is a one-man study and crusade which I began in 1974 when I was Vicar of St. Stephen's Episcopal Church in Guayanabo, Puerto Rico.

In this small mission church there were four young women suffering from a disease called Systemic Lupus Erythematosus (SLE), sometimes called lupus. It was hard to me to understand what lupus was and why each of them was afflicted differently.

To learn something about lupus, I searched locally for some patient/lay-reading-level information. Unable to find anything, I traveled to the National Institutes of Health (NIH) in Bethesda, Maryland, where I learned that...

- lupus is found throughout the world and that there are nearly one million lupus victims in America - most often young.
- lupus affects all races and ethnic groups, but 90% of lupus victims are women - most often Hispanic, Black, Asian, and Indian, and
- lupus is far more common than rheumatic fever, leukemia, cystic fibrosis, muscular dystrophy, multiple sclerosis, and other well-known diseases.

Realizing the gravity of the statistics, the complexity of the disease, and lack of public awareness, I felt an urgency to learn about lupus to be able to help its victims.

For many years, living in my motor home, I traveled throughout the country talking lupus with physicians, researchers, patients and their families, and officials of hospitals and volunteer health organizations. Now, my travels have brought me to the Glades.

I have decided to settle here and use my motor home to organize a lupus support group that will have regular meetings in every town from Clewiston to Okeechobee.

Someone you know has lupus

If you have lupus or have seen what lupus has done to your relative or friend, and would like to play a part in networking a lupus support system in the Glades, please contact me at my motor home/office at the following locations:

Thursday, February 20 and Friday, February 21st next door to Sweet and Sassy Dress Store on South Main Street.

I can also be reached by beeper at 936-6765. At the beep, please leave your telephone number.

My mailing address is P.O. Box 1422, Belle Glade, Florida, 33430

Dios, Cuba Y Monseñor Roman

Tengo ante mis ojos la ultima misiva, la penultima, por supuesto, de nuestro Excelentísimo Señor Obispo Monseñor Agustín E. Roman. Que me perdona el por tanta pompa. Cuando en mis momentos de soledad, algo acontecimiento me lo hace presente, el se me revela como una palomita. Se quiere menos solemnitad? Pero a la luz publica, en lo que a mi concierne, consideramos que hay que mantener la jerarquía, y el es un alto dignatario de la Iglesia.

Le bastan sus dones naturales para ejercer un liderazgo efectivo, no efestista. Si mirar profundo, la ternura de su voz, la naturalidad que emana de sus gestos y ademanes. Tal vez el hubiese preferido ser un humilde sacerdote sin mas titul que hombre de Dios.

El pobrecito de Asis - sin otros distintivos -, como nos los ensena nuestro querido Padre Villarronga, ha sido el Santo que mas se ha parecido a Jesucristo.

"Curemos el corazon Cubano" se titula la carta de nuestro Obispo.

"Dentro de pocas horas; si Dios no dispone otra cosa, deberse ser sometido a una delicada operacion del corazon..."

Son muchas las reflexiones que vienen a la mente de quien pone la luz en perspectiva ante la fragilidad de la misma.

Esa carta de nuestro Obispo ha conmovido todas las fibras del corazon de su grey. La patria leido con los ojos velados. Parece una despedida, seguida de un testamento que refleja la ultima voluntad de un padre que no se resigna - ante la posibilidad de una muerte en perspectiva -, a dejar desorganizados sus valores.

Monseñor Roman no puede morirse todavia. Las olas que impulsaron su barco hace mas de 30 años, cuando fue expulsado de Cuba, lo estan esperando para llevarlo en su barco de regreso.

El legado de su riqueza espiritual se resume en esa carta.

Aprovechemos un momento como este, en que dada su gravedad hemos estado a punto de perderlo, para responder unidos a su paternal llamado.

El conocimiento interno de las cosas de Dios le ha servido a nuestro Monseñor Roman para conocer mejor de la imagen y semejanza Divina que habita en los hombres. Su beatificante figura como que se transmite y se hace transparente, y nos revela la riqueza de una existencia fructifera y cautivadora.

Monseñor Roman nos hace hoy mas falta que nunca. Con la familia cubana desgarrada, los valores subvertidos, el odio exteriorizado. Dejemos que enmudezca todo lo que hasta aqui hemos escrito. Dejemos que sean algunas reflexiones de nuestro Obispo, las que terminen estas, nuestras humildes lineas.

Entre esas reflexiones que he ponderado en estos dias de involuntaria reclusion, ocupan un lugar principal las cosas de Dios y las cosas de la patria, porque yo no sabria como separar en mi el amor a Dios y el amor a Cuba, y no quisiera bien mayor para mi pueblo que el saber que todo aquel que se preocupe por el, lo haga a la luz del amor de Dios, pues seria eso la mejor garantia de felicidad para todos."

Panoramic view....The newly paved marina at Canal Point is beginning to draw a lot of drive by tourists. Parking is featured so that there is room in each parking place for your car and boat trailer while enjoying Lake Okechobee. These three people stopped just for a look at the big lake. They are standing at the boat loading ramp at the park.

Two more of Pahokee's Royal Palms will bite the dust...City Manager Ken Schenck said he had spoken with the Dept. of Transportation (D.O.T.) and instead of removing five of the trees as scheduled, they will only be removing two. Mr. Schenck said that D.O.T. said the trees were being removed for safety reasons. The Palms have graced the city's entrance for approximately 70 years.

Play planned

What do a domestic young housewife and a svelte sophisticate have in common? The same husband! Actor's Community Theatre will present the British comedy, "Run for Your Wife," February 21 and 22 at 8:00 p.m. and February 23 at 2:00 p.m. at the John B Boy Auditorium in Clewiston.

British playwright, Ray Cooney, has written and directed over thirty successful plays. "Run for Your Wife" is one of his most recent publications which has had successful stage popularity in professional dinner theatres across the United States. It has been so well received in the Palm Beach area that record numbers of audiences have been recorded.

The principle character of the play is one John Smith, a nondescript taxi driver who finds himself in love with two distinctly different women. What to do? He marries both of them and leads a duo life evolving around a very "tight" schedule. Balancing his two households is difficult enough before Smith, through a heroic feat, draws the attention of the press. Police begin to question the existence of two John Smiths, both taxi drivers, both married, living at different addresses. Poor John must enlist the aid of a trusted friend to pose as the other John Smith. The results? Hilarity!

Tickets for the play may be purchased at the box office.

Youth camp will remain open

Plans to shut down the Everglades Youth Conservation Camp in Palm Beach County to save money were cancelled recently when community groups and individuals volunteered to help keep it open.

The Florida Game and Fresh Water Fish Commission (GFC) operates the camp which serves up to 600 children during the summer. Conservation groups and other organization have rented the camp on week-end basis frequently throughout the rest of the year.

Duke Hammond, the Commission's director of media relations, said the camp was built in the late 1960s and needs extensive repairs and renovation.

"The facilities have come to the end of their useful life," Hammond said. "The sewer, roofs and electrical wiring all need replacement or repair."

After receiving dozens of phone calls and letters from people interested in keeping the camp open, the GFC requested, from the governor's office, spending authority for $59,000 to cover the most needed repairs. This sum would allow the camp to stay open through next summer, Hammond said.

He said the camp needs an additional $170,000, appropriation from the legislature in order to keep running.

The GFC also is requesting the legislature appropriate up to $2.5 million to fund a massive renovation program. The rejuvenated facility would serve as an environmental learning center for area schools and other groups. The legislature is scheduled to consider the proposal in January.

"We have the potential to build a first class facility," Hammond said. "Students could visit the Everglades camp and spend the day learning about our environment. That would be in addition to the summer youth camp program, and weekend rental to conservation groups."

The Everglades Youth Conservation Camp is 20 miles northwest of West Palm Beach and approximately five miles due west of the Beehive Highway. It's in the 58,000-acre J.W. Corbett Wildlife Management Area.

"The Commission originally approved shutting down the camp, effective in January, as a cost - saving measure," Hammond said.

The commissioners took that action with deep regret. But then, the outpouring of sentiment to keep the camp open resulted in approval of the emergency budget amendment.

Many community groups and leaders have pledged donations and volunteer to help the Commission keep the camp open and make it a quality facility, according to Hammond.

"Numerous letters and telephone calls showed us that the public regards the Everglades Youth Camp as an important learning resource that should be preserved," Hammond said.

St. Mary's Hospital in West Palm Beach, the Palm Beach County Airboat and Halftrack Conservation Club, and the African Safari Club have all stepped forward to offer support.

"We in the agency are 100 percent behind this effort," Hammond said.

"The Everglades Youth Camp has the potential to become a learning facility all Floridians can take pride in."

GCI graduates 60 inmates

By Bill Phillips
Staff reporter

They marched in the door to Pomp and Circumstance, all 60 graduates at Glades Correctional Institution last Tuesday. The inmates weren't graduating from prison though, some were graduating from high school, business training school and Branell Institute.

Whether the public school system failed these men or they failed the public school system, they were fortunate enough to be given another chance by the State of Florida to complete their education while incarcerated under the Correctional Education School Authority (CESA).

Superintendent John Shaw of Glades Correctional Institution said, "CESA, in working with the Department of Corrections, is a valued program around the state. We are proud of our staff and our inmates who participate in this program."

It is hoped that by giving these inmates an education, they will be returned to society equipped with knowledge and skill to join the labor force and make good contributions to society.

As each man received his diploma or degree, applause sounded from the audience made up of inmates and outside guests.

During these times of budget cuts, especially in education, prison officials are naturally fearful of losing their funding. They are hopeful constituents will stand behind them to keep these educational programs running.

Some might say, "Why educate prisoners anyway? They created their own problems!"

The answer could be with an education and job skills, many would have never become prisoners in the first place. A busy mind and a full time job will keep many men like this off the streets and out of trouble.

Choosing to get your education while incarcerated sounds easy. Well, inmates say it is not!

They say men who choose to take these special programs must face the ridicule of the ones who do not. It takes courage, determination, and pride to get through these programs.

What is important to an inmate is taken for granted by an outsider. Time stands still for a man inside a prison. He must eat, bathe, exercise, watch television, work, sleep, and do everything under a planned time schedule. That schedule is not his to plan.

While G.C.I. is not a maximum security prison, there are still murderers, rapists, child molesters, robbers, or burglars serving time there. Most will be released back into society.

The guest speaker for the event was Mr. Ollice Davis, CESA Education Program Manager.

He told the men to make a plan. "We could not have won the Persian Gulf War without a plan," he said.

"Nobody likes a loser; don't be a loser. Be a winner!" he continued.

Special guests at the ceremonies were Mr. Harry Singletary, Secretary of Corrections of the State of Florida and Jim Vallandingham, CESA Region IV Education Administrator.

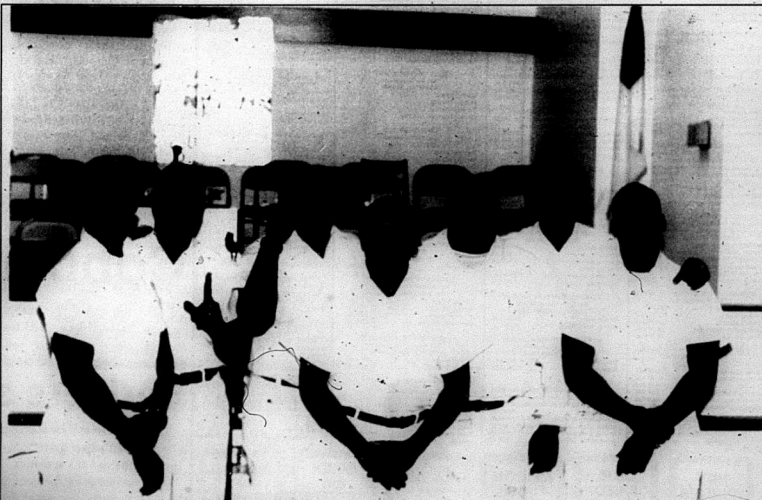

Musical selections were provided by the "Sword of the Spirit," a very talented group of inmate singers and musicians.

Kay Hornbuckle..... of Branell Institute, Corrections Educational Regional Director spoke to inmates.

Jim Melett, Director of Business Training Institute.... congratulates graduating inmates on attaining a goal.

"Sword of the Spirit".... are Spencer Kirkwood, Alonzo Brunson, Thomas E. Wilcox, Earl Reed, George Harris, John T. Hepburn, Vearo Blann, and Douglas Stubbs. These inmates entertained the audience at GCI graduation last week.
